Maintenance Report: John Clifford. The carbon monoxide detectors keep beeping because the batteries keep going dead on them. Since they are hard wired and not using the batteries, John will need to have someone look at them.

No update on the exterior sign, he could turn it off. He believes the lights outside are enough to illuminate it. No decision was reached.

There are now 4 blinking light fixtures in the turf room. He believes the transformers need to be replaced on them. He is going to send the company a video since they are still under warranty.

Kathy Roberts has stated that she has noticed some loose outlets. John has asked her to make a list of them and he will look into replacing them.
